Description
I noticed that the default /etc/systemd/system/bung.service contains:
<pre>ExecStart=/opt/bung/rsync_bu.sh -c /etc/opt/bung/rsync_bu.conf</pre>
/opt and /etc/opt aren't used anymore and all references need to be adjusted.
Beside, as a sane default, wouldn't it make sense to use super_bu? Eg:
<pre># cat /etc/systemd/system/bung.service [Unit] Description=Bung Supervisor [Service] ExecStart=/usr/bin/super_bu -c /etc/bung/super_bu.conf</pre>

OK thanks. Where did you find /etc/systemd/system/bung.service? I can't find it in the source or in the user guide

master c@CW10:~/.../bung/bung3/source$ find -name bung.service
[no output]
master c@CW10:~/.../bung/bung3/source$ grep -r ExecStart .
[no output]
